Jefferson Club.

Jefferson Club.

The Democratic Chy Central Committee will meet at the Jefferson Club Thursday night and set a date for holding primaries to select delegates to the State conventions. It is expected the primaries will be held some time in the latter part of this month. Considerable interest has been taken in the various wards and several of them will have contesting delegations. The big fight in most of the wards is between the Brudys in most of the wards is between the Brudys.

SIX MURDERERS DOOMED.

Missouri Supreme Court Affirms Verdict Against Them.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Jefferson City, Mo., May 8.-Division No. I of the Supreme Court rendered opinions twenty-four cases to-day, nearly in twenty-four cases to-day, nearly all of them criminal cases argued at this term of court. It was a sad day for murderers, as the sentences of six of them were affirmed and their execution set to the same day. June 15. This is probably the largest number of persons sentenced to be hanged at one time in the history of the court, and certaining the largest number sentenced at a single sitting in many years. The murderers sentenced to-day are: John A. Holloway, County: Enters Clevenger, Clay County: Robert Cushenberry, Clinton County, Jack Endford, Pernison Court unanimously affirmed the sentences. Miller was convicted of killing Samuel Crow at his home near Oregon in Holl County on March, 1899, by beating him to death with a club. The evidence was circumstantial, but threats made by the defendant that he would kill Crow because he had accused him of stealing six from his (Crow's) home, and the actions of the defendant afterwards fasteneed the goil on him so strongly that the conviction was the result.

Clevenger was convicted of killing a rival

High Laws. REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Washington, May 8.-A sharp skirmish was fought in the House to-day over the was fought in the ricuse to-day over the question of making the oleomargarine laws more restrictive, and was won by an overwhelming majority by the advocates of restriction. The question directly involved was only whether the House should call upon the Secretary of the Treasury for information regarding the ingredients used in the manufacture of oleomargarine. This information regarding the harredients used in the manufacture of oleomargarine. This information is in the possession of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, but has always been treated as confidential.

The House voted to-day that the information should be furnished, and it is the intention of the enemies of oleomargarine to follow up this achievement by reporting a bill imposing a tax of 10 cents per pound upon oleomargarine, when colored, and authorizing the Stales to exclude it, even when received in the course of interstate commerce in original packages. The debate to-days was short, but was marked by some pointed attacements.

Mr. Tawney of Minnesota, a member of the Ways and Means Committee, who favored the resolution calling upon the Secretary of the Treasury to furnish the ingredients of oleomargarine, led the fight against nearly all of his associates on the committee. He insisted that the information called for would not betray trade secrets, and that, in any case, the processes used by the manufacturers of oleomargarine were fully protected by patients. Mr. Dalzeli of Pennsylvania endeavored to show that the proposed resolution was a violation of law and of private right, and that question of making the oleomargarine laws -Judge Shirk, one of the delegates from the Eighth District to the Republican Na-tional Convention, was in the city yesterthe city yesterday on his way to his home at Springfield.
